

Young opens campaign office

ANCHORAGE — Congressman Don Young today announced the opening of his statewide campaign office in Anchorage for the 1986 general election. Young is seeking his eighth term in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Young said, "I am happy to announce the return of Gloria Tokar for her 14th year of service. Gloria has been a dedicated supporter and hard worker on my behalf." Tokar will serve as the finance director, as well as manage the office.

Also returning to the campaign staff are Anne Williams, a life-long Alaskan, who will resume her duties as the Press Secretary/Administrative Assistant; and Jack Bohnert, Treasurer for Alaskans for Don Young. Walter Deane, a graduate of Duke University, is joining the campaign staff as the Public Relations Director.

C.J. Zane, a veteran Young staffer, will be taking a leave of absence from his Washington, D.C. duties to head the campaign as the Campaign Manager beginning July 1.

Young said he is pleased to welcome his campaign staff on board. "We have a fine group of people and I look forward to another strong campaign effort."
