

Talk to Congress

The Alaska Congressional Delegation's mobile office will visit the North Pole Summer Festival on July 17.

The converted van is manned by staff from the Washington offices of Senators Ted Stevens and Frank Murkowski and Congressman Don Young.

The van tours the state during the summer to give residents an opportunity to discuss their concerns about federal issues or problems with the federal government.