

photos by Chris Cushman

1989 AFN Youth Convention

Young people from throughout Alaska gathered in Anchorage for the Alaska Federation of Natives Youth Convention. At top left, from left, Clara Vent of Huslia, Sheila Andrews of Galena and Jessica Hausman of Galena listen to a presentation. Among key issues discussed by the youth was how to get Alaska Native corporation stock for those born after December 1971. Other photos, moving clockwise, include, from left, Masuk Casados of Point Hope, Michael Morry of Anaktuvuk Pass and Fannie Mae Bodfish of Wainwright, taking nominations for regional representative for the 1990 convention. James Connolly of Anchorage served as a translator for the deaf during the convention. Sealaska Caucus members present their resolution to the general assembly, below. Debbie Evan of Marshall, listens; and Debbie Gridgs of Port Lions works on her notes.

