Caring is Sharing

Food Bank of Alaska . . .

Is a community based program to care for surplus food and to make this food available to nonprofit agencies that provide emergency food boxes, residential care or on-site meals.

Volunteers are an important part of the program serving in many capacities.

F.I.S.H. . . . old fashioned concern for one's neighbor. A phone call to the F.I.S.H. number brings an immediate response.

F.I.S.H. today is concentrating on emergency food provision. There are hungry families in Anchorage, and their number are growing.

Won't you please help by donating.
