

Southeast Native Radio now aired by KTOO-FM in Juneau

SOUTHEAST NATIVE RADIO, the half-hour public affairs show on KTOO-FM, is now being aired on Monday nights at 6:30 p.m., following Alaska News Nightly.

Southeast Native Radio features interviews with members of the Native community and focuses on the important issues in their lives.

According to KTOO-FM Program Director James Waste, several local organizations, including the Sealaska Heritage Foundation and the Alaska Native Brotherhood and Sisterhood, have participated in the show.

Participants include Arlene Dangeli, Pan Colorado Morrison, Nora Dauenhauer, Ron Williams, Woody Morrison, Jacqueline Estes, Fred White, Reginald Dangeli, Cecilia and Ed Kunz and Arce Credo Jr., Richard Dalton, Al Williams and Austin Hammond.

The show is open to all who wish to share their concerns, events, knowledge, art, etc. with the community. For more information please contact KTOO-FM Program Director James Waste at 224 Fourth Street, Juneau, Ak. 99801 or 586-1670.