

YOUTH CORPS RUNNING HOONAH CHILD CENTER

The Hoonah Day Care Center for children of parents working in the seasonal fishing industry is in operation for the second summer, but this year will use child-care workers provided through the Neighborhood Youth Corps.

The center is expected to care for some 40 infant to 12-year-old children of fishermen and crab cannery workers this summer. The center is operated by the Hoonah School System with the Assistance of the State Welfare Division.

Funds for the program to assist working parents come largely from the U.S. Children's Bureau Program. The children's parents pay according to their ability to pay and the number of children in the family.
