What do you look for in a Governor? Leadership? Guts? Imagination? Courage? Vitality? Personality? Strength? How about good money management? When Alaska fell heir to the $900 million dollars resulting from the North Slope Oil and Gas Lease Sale, the temptation for many was to spend it all. Your Governor saw the money as an opportunity for all Alaskans to benefit . . . forever. By investing instead of spending. In this way, projects vital to us all can be funded long after our rich oil resources are depleted. Today, these investments are drawing $199,320 in interest every day! The State of Alaska now ranks number one among all states in general fund investment performance. In 1963, under another administration, Alaska's two retirement funds ranked 63 and 71, ★ out of a total of 71 funds.
