

In Memoriam

To those Alaska Natives who gave of themselves in the extreme -- their very lives -- in honor and in defense of their country.
They asked not for themselves.
They sought not glory.
In faraway and alien lands they fought and sacrificed.
War itself is tragedy.
The greater tragedy would be to forget these - our people and their ultimate sacrifice.
We do not, and will not forget.
