

Post Offices In Villages to Remain Open

Senator Ernest Gruening was notified today in Anchorage by Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson that post offices at Anvik, Arctic Village, Bettles Field, Chatanika and Kalskag Kalskag will remain open.

This revokes an order announced last week that these post offices would be closed, among many others in the nation, because of economy orders and a manpower ceiling in the Post Office Department.

The postmaster general said he was reversing the previous orders following Congressional action authorizing department personnel to continue at existing levels without any reduction
