

Fare Was $1,000

During the starvation period in Dawson City, in 1898 some people started back for Dyce, Alaska, by dog sled. The fare was $1,000 and the passenger walked behind the dogs all the way — the sleds were for food, fuel, blankets and camping necessities on the 30-day trip.