

Sealaska Timber promotes 2

KETCHIKAN — Sealaska Timber Corp. has announced the appointment of Marvin Davis as vice president of finance and Ray McEwen as vice president of quality control.

Davis, 35, has been employed with Sealaska Corp. and Sealaska Timber Corp. for more than seven years. As vice president of finance, he supervises a staff of seven employees and oversees all the necessary accounting functions for Sealaska Timber Corp.

McEwen has been employed with Sealaska Timber Corp. for nine years. He currently supervises a staff of nine quality control employees. McEwen served as marketing and quality control manager prior to his appointment as vice president of quality control.

Sealaska Timber Corp. is a wholly owned subsidiary of Sealaska Corp., formed to market forest resources for Sealaska and market forest resources for client Native corporations and eligible U.S. Forest Service sales within Southeast Alaska.