

Fourteen New Trainees Go to Skill Center

Special To The Tundra Times

SEWARD—Fourteen Alaskans recently entered the Alaska Skill Center for training.

New students in the building maintenance cluster include Ralph Sacchellis, Elim; Plasker Nicholi, Kaltag; Earl Intuk, Nome; Eddie Peter, Tuluksak; Mike Joe, Nightmute; Bruce Day, Sitka; Vernon Kinagak, Bethel; Oswals Moses, Golovin; Taylor George, Kotzebue; Ray Oozevasuk, Gambell, and Russel Ramsey, Anchorage.

Felicit Unok of Kotlik and James Simeoff of Kodiak are enrolled in the clerical cluster. Joachim Nicholi of Kalskag is a new trainee in mechanical maintenance and repair.

Also, Alvin Bereskin of Unalaska was transferred from food services into mechanical maintenance and repair.

According to Robert Booher, Skill Center director, 140 students were enrolled in the training facility as of October 23.

The Alaska Skill Center is jointly sponsored by the Department of Labor, the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation and the Division of Vocational and Adult Education in the Department of Education and the Bureau of Indian Affairs.