

A Salute to the People of Mekoryuk

Early this week the seaborne exploratory drilling rig KEY SINGAPORE was separated from its tow in the Bering Sea in heavy seas. Despite the determined efforts of its crew, and the crews of its two tugboats, the KEY SINGAPORE grounded near Nelson Island. Helicopters were able to remove the crew safely to the closest refuge, the village of Mekoryuk on nearby Nunivak Island. Responding to the emergency, the people of Mekoryuk, in true Alaskan tradition, opened their homes and their hearts to the 39 crew members of the KEY SINGAPORE. ARCO Alaska, Inc. gratefully acknowledges the invaluable assistance of the people of Mekoryuk.
