

You can take your lunch and learn at Bethel Visitor Center

BETHEL — A Brown Bag Lunch Program has begun at the Bethel Visitor Center focusing on topics that celebrate local history, culture and art.

Every Wednesday from noon until 1 p.m. a cultural topic is explored, stories are told or an art form is explained and displayed.

Sponsored by the Yugtarkvik Regional Museum, the Brown Bag Lunch Program is a way for the museum and members of the community to share the vast wealth of talents and historical knowledge in Bethel.

The program also serves as a way for visitors to the town and region to learn about the area.

Among speakers who have already offered presentations are Zora Tittle, Alice Nerby, Pat Baker, Evelyn Day and Mary Gregory.

Advertisements on Channel 9 and on KYUK public radio will keep people up to date on who will be speaking each Wednesday.

Anyone is invited to bring lunch, and all are encouraged to send visitors.

The museum is sponsoring this lunch-time series to celebrate its 20th year: 1967-1987, as well as the museum's important role in preserving and promoting the culture, history and art of our community.

Museum hours are Tuesday-Saturday, 11 a.m.-6 p.m.
