JUNEAU — Governor William A. Egan said recently the state has awarded a $1.7 million contract for construction of two miles of paved road from the Anchorage/Fairbanks Highway to the north side of the Chena River in Fairbanks.

The project, awarded to Earth Movers of Fairbanks, Inc., is the second segment of three phases of construction which, when completed, will provide direct four-lane access to Fairbanks from the Anchorage/Fairbanks Highway. It will also provide speedier access to Fairbanks International Airport.

The final segment of the three will involve construction of a bridge across the Chena River.

The segment currently under way is scheduled for completion in September, 1975.
