What Saith the Scriptures?

Behold, I stand at the door, and knock; if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me.
Revelation 3:20.

In this one verse our Lord lays open His own heart. The day is dark, the dispensation is almost done. Laodiceans are everywhere self-satisfied and asleep. There is no room for Him in the midst of those who once loved His name. He stands outside longing for fellowship. There is little time left to enjoy it, just time for a sup; but He longs for "any man" to hear His voice and open the door to Him. He does not promise success in ministry; He says nothing of advanced reputation before man; but He says, "I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me."
Is that sufficient to me to cause me to do this that He wants me? Shall my heart be another Bethany where supper is made for Him?

'Twas a happy, happy day in the olden time,
When the Lord to Bethany came.
Open wide the door, let Him enter now!
For His love is ever the same.
