

Students to Take Over Soon For 3 Weeks

University of Alaska students will take over the Tundra Times next Monday April 18 to put out the issues on April 22, April 29, and May 6.

This will enable the weary editor to go on a three-week vacation and bury his head in the sand for that length of time. He has not had a vacation ever since the Times started publishing on October 1, 1962.

Merv Mullins, editor of the Polar Star, university student publication, will be the main "Majordomo." He will be helped by other students. Genial Prof. Jimmy Bedford will be the "eagle eye" along with Dean Olson's keen eyesight to see that the operation runs smoothly.