

Jim Couch Elected ATA President

JUNEAU—Meeting in annual session recently in the Baranof Hotel, directors of the Alaska Tuberculosis Association elected officers for the 1966-67 fiscal year, voted to consolidate the present state association and the Anchorage local association into one organization to retain the name, Alaska Tuberculosis Association, and also voted to re-locate the State Association office in the Anchorage area.

The association business sessions of Friday and Saturday were conducted by outgoing president John N. Stern, Jr., Anchorage.

State Association directors elected James S. Couch, Fairbanks, president for 1966-67. Other officers named to serve with Couch are, First vice president, Mrs. Grace Akiyama, Juneau; second vice president, Mrs. J. Harold Perry, Fairbanks; secretary, Mrs. John Hagemeier, Auk Bay; treasurer, Mrs. Marjorie Mof, Douglas.

Executive committee members, Mrs. Frances Mfaker, Dr. Francis Phillips, Henry Hedberg and John M. Stern, Jr., all of Anchorage.

Time of consolidation of the State and Anchorage local associations and re-location of the state association office will be announced at a later date, Couch said. He also announced the semi-annual state board meeting will be held July 9 and 10 in Fairbanks.
