

Sense of betrayal

If the legislature does away with tax exemptions for the senior citizens and disabled veterans they would not be able to look into the eyes of these constituents to explain why.

Seniors have already paid property, income and school taxes for decades. They also face unnecessary cutbacks to their longevity bonuses. Both groups have made heroic sacrifices without complaints or questions, let's not betray them.