

WILL ROGERS, JR. IN ALASKA—Just prior to his trip to Alaska, Will Rogers, Jr., right, is pictured at the base of the statue of his father in the U.S. Capitol of the late Will Rogers, Sr., famous actor and wit. The elder Rogers was killed in a tragic airplane crash near Barrow with the famous pilot, Wiley Post, in the early summer of 1935. Pictured with Rogers are

Sen. Ernest Gruening and his secretary, Miss Brenda Itta of Barrow. Will Rogers, Jr. was a keynote speaker at the Alaska Native Brotherhood convention in Ketchikan last Monday. He has been to Wrangell, Juneau and Mt. Edgecumbe at Sitka. He is due at Kotzebue today and will be in Fairbanks tomorrow night. He will fly to Barrow Sunday.
