

Secretaries Honored

All Alaskan citizens, employers and all those who benefit from a secretary's efficient and loyal service are asked to pay respect to the secretarial profession during "Secretaries Week in Alaska," April 24 through April 30, as proclaimed by Gov. Egan.

The secretary is the silent partner in American endeavor—advancing the cause of her employer and creating a favorable response in those who come in contact with the office in which she works.

The important role of the secretary in the economic and governmental life of America has been recognized by establishing the last week in April as "Secretaries Week."
