

UA Gets $156,000 Federal Grant

Senator Stevens announced federal grants totaling more than $156,000 to the University of Alaska during the first week of the new year.

Stevens said that, in addition to specific research projects, the National Science Foundation awarded the University $46,548 to help maintain a strong academic base for science, mathematics and engineering.

The purpose is to assist institutions of higher education in carrying out their own plans and priorities through use of these funds for direct costs of science activities.
