

ONE OF THE MOST difficult construction segments on the trans Alaska pipeline project is at Atigun Pass in the Brooks Mountain Range. In the foreground a trio of sideboom tractors lowers in a section of 48-inch diameter pipe at the north end of the pass.

—Alyeska Pipeline Service Co. Photo