

Board Finds Senungetuk's House

Last Friday the board of directors of the Tundra Times held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Ron Senungetuk. Ron is an Eskimo professor of arts at the University of Alaska.

Ron and his wife Turid live out in the country where it's quiet and peaceful. It is also rather difficult to find when one is not careful.

Ron Senungetuk called Tundra Times secretary Joyce Ard and gave her the following directions that Joyce passed on to the board members.

"Turn onto Farmer's Loop Rd. off of College Rd.

"Turn left on Ballane Road. Pass golf course. Continue for approximately one mile on Ballane Rd.

"Pass Laura's.

"You'll see a little red ski shack on the right side (in the middle of a field). As you pass this, turn on next road to the right Herreid Road - no marker.

"Continue on road for approximately one mile. It will make a sharp left and then a sharp right as it climbs.

"You will pass a road (Red Fox Drive) which intersects Ballane Road on the left. After you pass this intersection, Ballane Road becomes Wolverine Lane all of a sudden.

"Just a little way up from the intersection is Ron's house. It's the next house on the left. There is an unfinished house across the street.

"If lost, call Ron at 479-6768."

To everyone's amazement, everyone showed up at Ron's house.

"You can't miss it."