

National Guard Gets Grant For Construction

JUNEAU—Governor William A. Egan said he has been notified of $702,000 in Federal construction grants to the Alaska National Guard.

One grant, of $300,000, is for construction of training facilities at Camp Carroll, Alaska. The other, of $402,000, is for construction of an armory in Kenai.

The grants were made by the National Guard Bureau of the Department of Army in Washington, D.C.
