What Saith The Scriptures

Thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked. Revelation 3:17.

Riding one day with two bright boys through a section of the country where an extensive crop of rye was ripening, one of the boys remarked that the rye was very poor that year and not well filled. The other boy asked how he knew it was not well filled. "Oh," he said, "you can tell that by the heads standing up so straight." I looked, and, sure sure enough, fully three fourths of the heads pointed proudly up to the sky and waved majestically in the wind. They presented a much finer appearance for standing up so straight—but they were empty.

One must take his or her place as a lost sinner, and must receive Christ to be truly saved. "He that hath the Son hath life." 1 John 5:12-13.
