

Friendship House potlatch held

More than 50 adults and 15 adolescents and children attended the Open House Pot Luck to celebrate the recent opening of Substance Abuse Awareness Week and Community Friendship House Day in Barrow.

A dinner of spaghetti with meatsauce, salad and banana bread, and cake and coffee was served. The main course was provided by Friendship House Counselor Terry Durbin.

Shown below are Friendship House staff Kathryn Carlson, director; Hank Jacoby, administrative assistant; Margie Zebotitz, prevention specialist and in the back row, Steve Rasic, Frank Poplawski and Terry Durbin.

Those attending the Friendship House Open House dined, talked and enjoyed themselves for the night.
