

Open House

The Tundra Times would like to thank all of our friends who turned out last Friday to make our Anchorage open house a success. Two hundred people from all over Alaska joined us to celebrate the opening of our Anchorage office.

We wish to especially thank the Koniag Corporation for providing twenty-five pounds of king crab legs; and Morris Thompson, Alcan Pipeline Co., Virginia McKinney of Alaska Industry Magazine, Jeff Richardson, Irene Rowan, and Nancy Harvey of our Anchorage staff, all of whom brought champaign; Al Kahklen for Kuskokwim King salmon; Donna Christie for food preparation; Mary Jane Brower for bringing muktuk, and Dorothy Richards for Kodiak shrimp and other snacks.

We thank all who attended the party for properly inaugurating our new Anchorage office. Our readers are invited to visit the new offices at 835 D Street, Suite 208 and meet our Anchorage staff.
