

State Senator at 25—

UA Nominates Sen. Miller As Outstanding Young Man

FAIRBANKS—The University of Alaska nominated State Sen. Terry Miller (R-Fairbanks) for selection as one of America's Ten Outstanding Young Men of 1969.

Miller, a graduate of UA, is the youngest state senator in Alaska's history. He was elected to the office last fall at age 25.

UA's President William R. Wood announced the nomination. He said, "We take obvious pride in the fact one of our 1965 graduates now serves in the State Senate."

"Miller's achievement at age 26 is truly remarkable. Even more remarkable are the maturity and intelligence with which he serves government in Alaska."

America's Ten Outstanding

Young Men awards are made each year by the U.S. Jaycees. U.S. Rep. Howard Pollock (R-Alaska) received the award in 1955.

Miller chairs the Senate Judiciary Committee and sits on the Senate Finance Committee. He was elected to the State House at age 23 and served as North Star Borough Assembly president at 21.
