

Miller names Kotzebue committee

Lt. Gov. Terry Miller, Republican candidate for governor, has announced a Kotzebue steering committee for his campaign.

The committee chairman is John Schaeffer, president of the NANA Regional Corp. He served on Gov. Jay Hammond's re-apportionment Board and the University Board of Regents.

Also on the committee are Robert Newlin, chairman of the Board of the NANA Regional Corp., who was active in land claims issues; Kotzebue Mayor Royal Harris; NANA Educational Foundation Director Dennis Tiepelman, former Washington D.C. representative of the Alaska

Federation of Natives; Maniilaq president Marie Schwind, who is involved with the Native Women of NANA and a director of the AFN;

Gene Moore, a member of the Title 29 committee and a member of the Kotzebue Chamber of Commerce and Lions Club; Jeff Smith, an employee at Maniilaq Corp.,

the non-profit corporation of the NANA region. Smith is a former city council member and a member of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Board, and a Mental Health Board member;

Marge Baker, owner of Baker Aviation and a former NANA board member; and former magistrate Fletcher Gregg.