

Fishery council to meet Dec. 17-18

The North Pacific Fishery Management Council's Future of Groundfish Management Committee will meet in Seattle Dec. 17-18.

The committee will make recommendations to the council on long-term management strategies for groundfish fisheries in the Gulf of Alaska and the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands by June of 1988.

The committee will begin discussions on a system or systems for future management of the two fisheries.

The meeting will begin at 8:30 a.m. in Room 2143, Building 4, at the Northwest and Alaska Fisheries Center at 7600 Sand Point Way N.E. in Seattle.
