

Train for Jobs

Six categories are now open to all individuals interested in the Wildwood Indian Action Program. Applications are being taken for people desiring training in one of the categories.

Categories and number of positions available include business management, 20; pilot training, 15; general building, 10; heavy equipment mechanic, 10 and utility systems, 10.

Requirements state that the applicants must be between 18 and 35 and have a high school diploma. If they have not graduated, they may work on their General Equivalency Diploma while being trained.

Space is available for 45 singles and 30 married couples. The IAP will provide travel expenses and $2.50 per hour during training. Trainees must pay room and board, with meals costing $1.75 each.

Those interested in the training program should contact Don Wright, director of the Indian Action Program, at the Kenai Native Association, Inc., P.O. Box 2839, Kenai, Alaska 99611. Or they may call 283-7034 for further information.
