

At most hotels, you'd need to sell the farm to pay for a weekend in Anchorage.

A few others will give you a reasonable deal on a weekend room/airfare package.

But not without a hitch.

Their weekend room rates are only reasonable for one night. After that, be prepared to dig a little deeper into your pockets.

With a Sheffield/MarkAir "Weekender Package" you get airfare and two nights of quality hotel accommodation. What's more, at a price you'll find competitive with what other hotels are offering for a one night stay.

With an offer like this one, you not only can keep the farm.

You can afford to leave it for the weekend.

For reservations see your travel agent or call MarkAir.
