

Mental Health up to staff

By Dave Brister, Ph.D.

Community Mental Health

It is more than a little satisfying to be able to announce here that the Community Mental Health Center staff has been brought to full strength by the arrival of a second clinician. Mark Snipes, M.S., brings important additional clinical capability to the program as a consequence of his excellent psychological training is both the topic for this edition's column, and an area in which Mark is quite knowledgeable. And so, without further ado the column is turned over to him for completion.
