

Native pipeline workers to meet

Former Native counselors who worked on the pipeline are trying to form an organization that would benefit Alaska Natives in the coming Gas Pipeline construction.

The counselors believe they can be of assistance due to their past experiences. Any other former counselors or interested persons can attend a meeting at the Tundra Club at the Alaska Native Hospital Monday, April 28. Contact Chuck Cameron at 265-3105 for further information. The meeting is open to the public.
