

13th Corp. names general manager

SEATTLE -- John C. Bailey has been named general manager of the 13th Regional Corporation which represents Alaska Natives living outside the state. The announcement came within a week of the announcement of major losses by the company.

The corporation said Bailey, who reportedly has held senior management positions with international companies, will have full responsibility for financial affairs and business operations of the corporation and its subsidiaries.