GALENA, (Special)— The newly built home of Donald Demoski of Nulato was badly burned by an over-heated stove Saturday April 5.

It was first noticed by a little boy who was unhooking his dogteam back of town after completing his part in dogteam racing.

He left his team and ran to the riverbank where most of the people were watching the races.

The people used what tools and equipment they had to extinguish the fire. Snow and water were mostly used. Everyone helped.

Easter Sunday, the men of Nulato, along with many out-of-towners, helped Don to rebuild.

Over $200 was collected, windows, a door and insulation was donated by the Nulato Cooperative Association. The people of Nulato were happy no one was injured or lost in the fire.

Don, his family and the people of Nulato wish to extend their help in extinguishing the fire, their donations of money, material and labor for rebuilding.

There were people from Fairbanks, Galena, Koyukuk, Ruby, Huslia, and Kaltag.

Nulato thanks the people from these villages.
