

Labor Dept. Allocates $264,000

U.S. Senator Mike Gravel announced today that he was most pleased with the recent allocation of $264,000 to the State of Alaska from the Dept. of Labor.

This money is to be used to find training opportunities for 200 jobless Alaskans.

It is most significant that out of the total amount for the twelve western states of $772,787, that Alaska has received about one quarter of this money.

"The broad participation of Government, Industry, Labor and the public at large in our recent Job Conference shows that the attention of Alaskans is on the job problem," said Senator Gravel.
