"Micro" in Latin means "Small in size."

In the 49th state, microwave systems like the new Anchorage/Seward link, are doing a giant-size job of improving communications.

RCA Alaska Communications, Inc. is building a system to deliver nearly one-thousand channels to Portage, 300 to Seward, and to link many communities between Anchorage and Seward.

That's for now.

For the future?

We have planned for expansion to help meet your communications needs.
