

Carla Cleveland meets with Sen. Frank Murkowski and Interior Secretary Donald Hodel. She spent a day accompanying the senator.

Quinhagak high school student serves as intern for Murkowski

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Quinhagak resident Carla Cleveland was one of 10 high school students from Alaska who participated in Alaska Sen. Frank Murkowski's summer intern program held each year in Washington, D.C.

The students worked in Murkowski's office until Aug. 8th. Others included Cheri Jacobus and Jayson Giles of Anchorage, Erin Bell of Ketchikan, Ariel Estrada of Sitka, Christin Wilson of Fairbanks, Margo J. Ratcliffe of Juneau, Heather Chmielewski of Palmer, Tammy Neakok of Barrow and Allison Motley of McLean, Va.

The first session of 10 students worked in Murkowski's office from June 6 to July 5.