

Photo by Michael Klueber

Members of the North Pacific Fisheries Management Council met in Anchorage last week and focused on groundfish allocations within Alaska's 200-mile limit, as well as such issues as sablefish management and a crab plan for the Bering Sea and Aleutian Islands. Among the 15 members of the council at the meeting were, shown above from left, John Winther, Larry Cotter, Jon Nelson, Henry Mitchell, John Peterson and Robert Mace.