

Open to Natives—

American Indian Arts

Applications are now being accepted for admission to the Institute of American Indian Arts, a federally-funded school open to all artistically talented students of one-fourth or more Indian ancestry.

A national school for Indian youths in grades 11 through 14, the high school division offers an accredited program emphasizing Indian traditions and cultures in all fields.

In addition to a standard high school curriculum, the school has offerings in the history, literature, and folklore of the American Indian, linguistics, business education, costume design, etc.

Art offering in both the high school and college divisions are varied and expand constantly to meet student needs and interests.

The art program includes instruction in painting, pottery, ceramic sculpture, design, traditional techniques, silversmithing, modern and traditional dance, creative writing, commercial art, sculpture, graphics, communication, photography, and A/V media, with limited work in music.

The Institute is seeking mature students who are sincerely interested in art and who can accept the challenge of stimulating classes and exciting surroundings.

The enrollment is limited and acceptance is granted only to those whose artistic commitments are strong enough to warrant special training to art fields.

For applications or more information write to:

Registrar

Institute of American Indian
Arts

1300 Cerrillos Road
Santa Fe, New Mexico 87501