Cordova man teacher of the year

Jerry Bendzak, a physical education and swimming teacher at Mt. Eccles Elementary School in Cordova, has been named the 1983-84 Alaska

Teacher of the Year. The selection was made by NEA/Alaska. Bendzak, a Cordova teacher for 12 years, helped develop for 12 years, helped develop the Cordova School District's physical education program, prompted construction of a ground, and instituted an Elementary Olympics in which all school children participate.

a field of six candidates. The other five were:

Beth Auni, music teacher at Bendzak was selected from North Pole Elementary School, Fairbanks; Bill Darling, science, compuham High School;

Janet Dodson, elementary and art teacher at Deering School, Northwest Arctic School District;

Jan Heinrich, science teacher

ter and math teacher at Dillingat Service High School, Anchorage; Steve Kinney science teach-

Steve Kinney, science teacher at Ketchikan High School.