

August 10, 1987

Tundra Times

Page Nine

Gail Sampson

It's Time Somebody Asked Alaskans What They Think About ANWR.

It's Alaska's hottest issue in Congress right now, and the U.S. Department of the Interior wants to know what Alaskans think about proposed oil and gas exploration on the coastal plain of the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge. To find out, Interior Secretary Donald Hodel will talk to Alaskans all over the state in a special one-hour call-in program, over the Alaska Public Radio Network.

11 a.m. to noon, Monday, August 17.

On Your Public Radio Station

Call (800) 478-ANWR

Sponsored by Alascom.