

Grant to Pay for Hootch Case

Francis Flavin, Executive Director of Alaska Legal Services announced recently that the Grant Foundation, Inc. of New York City has awarded the program $7,000 for litigation costs in Hootch vs. Alaska State-Operated Schools.

Philip Sapir, director of the Grant Foundation, in making the award noted the Board of Trustees considered the need to obtain equal educational opportunities for Native Alaskan Children essential. The grant is a one-time award for a period of one year.

Mr. Flavin stated that this fund will enable Alaska Legal Services to continue its efforts in the Hootch case.
