

Seventy-nine-year-old Joe Field of Noorvik was a tugboat skipper in the Kotzebue Sound area for many years until he recently retired. When Field learned that a barge being towed by a tug was about to leave Kotzebue, he journeyed down to the water front to watch and relive a few memories.