

On St. Lawrence Island, freezers come in handy

GAMBELL — Summertime at Gambell on Saint Lawrence Island has so much for the people there to do.

The snow is less and less. Oh, it is so good to walk on gravel again.

People are working on the meats and skins of seals they got this spring. Spring is just about to the end.

Meats are out drying on the meat racks. We used to put some in our underground meat places, but now we have something wonderful to put them in — what the white man has brought.

Thank you, white man. We call laluramka in our language. That's the freezer. Those freezers are wonderful.

Our meats are kept good! Thank you, white man, again.
