

Post Office says dividend checks will be forwarded

Due to a recent change in instructions from the Alaska Department of Revenue, the U.S. Postal Service will now forward all Permanent Fund dividend checks to residents who have left a forwarding address on file.

Residents who have moved should be certain the Permanent Fund dividend office and the Postal Service have their correct addresses.

Postal officials assure everyone that the checks will be distributed as soon as they are received by the post office. The Postal Service requests that residents do not call their local offices with questions about dividend checks.
