

Arctic Slope Consulting Engineers acquires Ocean Technology Ltd.

Arctic Slope Regional Corp. has announced that Arctic Slope Consulting Engineers has recently acquired Ocean Technology Ltd., one of Alaska's oldest engineering and land surveying firms.

Founded in Anchorage in the late 1950s by F.M. Lindsey, the company now known as OceanTech offers a broad range of professional services including engineering, project management and surveying.

The combined subsidiaries — Arctic Slope Consulting Engineers and OceanTech — qualify as 100 percent Indian-Owned, Minority and Disadvantaged Business Enterprises and offer a full range of professional services.