

INDIAN DANCERS AT CAPITOL—When seven dancers from Haines and Klukwan visited Washington, D.C. recently to participate in a program of Indian dancing at the Carter Barron Amphitheatre the group visited the United States Capitol and witnessed a session of the U.S. Senate. They were escorted on their Capitol tour by Senator Ernest Gruening (D-

Alaska) (pictured in center of front row) and his administrative assistant, George Sundborg (rear row, right). The dancers were Leo Jacobs, John Hagen, John Katzeek, Nathan Jackson, Leslie Katzeek, Carl W. Heinmiller and Franklin Berry.